Product Categories

- Cabinet

Server cabinet

The appearance is noble, elegant and generous. The stylish one-push lock design is simple and convenient. The mesh design of the front and back doors with high ventilation rate makes the cabinet maintain the best air flow all year round.

Flow, combined with the use of blind plates to suppress airflow, can effectively make the equipment in the cabinet more. Good absorption of cold air, blocking backflow of hot air, reducing improper circulation, improving. Cooling efficiency, thereby reducing energy consumption. Combined with the unique hot and cold aisle, it not only highlights the image of a high-quality computer room, but also makes the cabinet.

The exchange flow of hot and cold air is always maintained in the body, creating reasonable advantages for the equipment in the cabinet. Good operating environment, which further saves energy and protects the environment, and reduces the maintenance cost of the equipment room.

Wall mounted cabinet

The main frame is composed of 2 welded frames, top cover and bottom plate, and the design is simple.

It is used to store small network equipment such as routers and patch panels, suitable for home and office

Use in public rooms and other places.
